

A

City of Redmond, Downtown Circulation Options

Illustrative Sections - Local Street

Pedestrian orientation

Wide sidewalks allow for groups to gather and interact

Wide sidewalk allows for street trees and furniture

On-street parking provided

On-street parking and continuous building facades define the pedestrian realm

Parking provides buffer between pedestrians and vehicle traffic

Narrow vehicle travel lanes serve to limit traffic speeds

Bicycle riders do not have a designated travel space and must share the travel lane. However, bicyclists benefit from slower moving traffic

